

NAIA Conduct in Competition Suspension Rubric

In the NAIA, any ejection in any sport carries a mandatory suspension of at least one game (see NAIA Bylaws Article VI, Section B, Item 7). In addition, the specific sport itself may also carry a suspension, as determined by rules of competition for that sport. If both an NAIA and sports rule suspension apply, the two suspensions run concurrently. For every type of ejection found in the rulebook for each championship sport, this rubric details which suspension – NAIA or sports rule – applies, and what options for recourse exist. Please contact the NAIA Officiating or Legislative Services departments with any questions.

Protests refer to sport-specific competition rules and the applicable protest procedure (if allowed by the particular sport). To protest an incident, the basis of the protest must align with the requirements as dictated by the sports rule, and the follow the prescribed sports procedure for lodging the protest. When sports rule dictates the basis of the protest must be "misapplication of the rule," a judgment call by the official is not a protestable misapplication.

Baseball sports rule: A suspended person must follow the same penalties as those in an ejection (e.g., removed from sight and sound of the contest). Additionally, a suspended person cannot: a. Be dressed in game uniform; b. Communicate with any team personnel or umpires; c. Take part in any pregame activities at the site of competition; and d. Be in the stadium or on the field once pregame activities have started. Procedures for enforcing penalties are as follows: (1) After an ejection and suspension, the offending individual must leave the field and dugout area immediately and is not allowed to communicate with team members or the umpires. (2) Suspended personnel shall not be in uniform, allowed in any team area or perform any team duty while serving their suspensions. (3) It is the responsibility of the institution's head coach and director of athletics to administer and enforce the suspension penalty. If a suspended player or coach is found to have participated in a game during the prescribed suspension, the game will be forfeited by the offending team.
